Ven. Archdeacon Cody, D. D., LL. D.,
603 Charles Street
Toronto

Dear Archdeacon Cody:

It was very kind of you to send me an invitation to be present at the opening of St Paul's Church, on Sunday, November 30th. As you are aware, we have a service at the University on Sunday morning, which it is incumbent upon me to attend. I am glad to avail myself of your kind invitation to be present with you in the evening.

I hope that the opening will pass off to your highest satisfaction, and will be the beginning of a new era of service in your magnificent building.

Yours sincerely,

President.

Venerable Archdeacon Cody,

Toronto.

My dear Archdeacon:

I have received this morning a letter from Dr. H.F. Cope, Secretary of the Religious Education Association, in which he asks me to use what influence I may have with the purpose of inducing you to accept the invitation of the Executive Committee of the Association to go to New Haven for Thursday, March 5th, and give an address at the Annual Meeting of the Association on "Education and the Social Ideals of the Age". They are to meet in Wolsey Hall, Yale University, and are the guests, I understand, of the University, so that there will be a large and very influential audience. I was at the annual meeting in Cleveland last March and was impressed by the place that this Association has come to hold in the minds of those who are interested in education in the United States and Canada. I am sure that if you can go you will be received with the greatest hospitality and listened to with the greatest respect. If I can induce you to go by giving you any further information I shall be glad to do so.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Venerable Archdeacon Cody,

My dear Archdeacon:

You probably have seen something of the "Constructive Quarterly" edited by Mr. Silas McBee of New York. I have been acting at his request on his advisory committee and he has asked me to secure an article for the December issue on "Some Phase of the Religious Life of Canada", particularly dealing with Union, I should suppose.

I suggested you to him, as being one who, if he could secure your consent, would be as representative a man as he could probably secure, and he has eagerly adopted the suggestion, and has asked me to communicate with you. The article might be written during the summer and he would want it in his hands by the 15th of August.

He tells me in a letter of yesterday that the Bishop of Winchester has just promised him an article. He seems to have the ability to get contributions from a great variety of people. I hope that you will be able to help him in this matter. You will understand that it is probably from a sense of delicacy that he has asked me to communicate with you as he had got me to act on his advisory committee for Canada.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President .

My dear Archdeacon:

I have to thank you for your kindness in sending me an invitation to be present at the opening and dedicating of the new organ on Wednesday, April 29th. I regret, however, that I will be unable to be present owing to a meeting of the Senate on that occasion. I congratulate you on the happy result of your work.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
